Today the SUNY Poly community will come together to assemble 500 comfort kits for victims and survivors of sexual and interpersonal violence. This event is part of an initiative created by SUNY in 2016 called SUNY's Got Your Back. Domestic and sexual violence survivors often seek assistance at hospitals or shelters with little more than the clothes they are wearing. These kits, which contain personal care items, serve to provide a level of comfort in a difficult moment of their lives and to send a message that SUNY Poly cares about their experience.

We invite you to stop by the Student Center MPR between 11:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. to assemble a comfort kit. A few minutes of your time today will have a meaningful effect on victims and survivors in our area.
